III. Conference services

Meetings services

The Department for General Assembly and Conference Management is responsible for providing meetings services, including interpretation, the provision of meeting records and the editing, translation, reproduction and distribution of documents.

Planning and Meetings Servicing Section (room S-1537, ext. 3.6540): answers general enquiries on meetings services.

Documents Control (room S-1552, ext. 3.6579): answers enquiries regarding documents.

Programme of meetings

Prepared by the Meetings Planning and Programming Unit (ext. 3.8114 or 3.7351). The daily programme of meetings for the following day giving the conference rooms and other relevant information, is printed in the Journal (see page 31). This information is also posted next to the conference room doors and displayed on screens alongside the corridors.

Duration of meetings

As a rule, morning meetings are scheduled from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and afternoon meetings from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Punctuality: Owing to the heavy demand for meetings and the limited facilities available, it is essential that meetings should start on time and that the above schedule be respected to the fullest extent possible. Therefore, delegations are urged to be present at the meetings on time.

Information for delegations

Scheduling of meetings: It is advisable to schedule related meetings consecutively whenever possible, to ensure the maximum utilization of available services. For ease of transition, however, there should be a short gap between unrelated meetings.

Meetings of regional and other major groupings of Member States and other informal meetings can be accommodated only if and when services originally earmarked for meetings of charter or mandated bodies are released.

Use and care of UN electronic equipment

Delegates and other meeting participants are requested not to place water and/or other liquids on tables or surfaces in conference rooms where simultaneous interpretation audio systems are installed. Spillages might occur thus causing serious malfunction. Care should also be taken in utilizing microphones, channel selectors, voting switches and audio earphones as these are sensitive electronic devices.

Use of cameras and cellular phones

Members of delegations are reminded not to take photographs in the General Assembly Hall and to refrain from making or accepting cellular phone calls at their delegation tables (see page 33).

Seating arrangements according to the first seat

The delegation of Sao Tome and Principe has been chosen by lot on 1 August 2006 to occupy the first seat in the General Assembly Hall during the sixty-first session of the General Assembly. The delegation of Sao Tome and Principe will, therefore, be seated in the front row at the extreme left (the Secretary-General's side of the podium). Delegations of the other Member States will follow in the English alphabetical order of names, in accordance with established practice. The same seating arrangement applies to meetings of the Main Committees.

Conference services

Copies of the floor plan are available in the Meetings Servicing Unit (room S-B1-02; ext. 3 7348).

Journal of the United Nations (Room S-2370)

All queries may be made from 3 p.m. onwards at ext. 3 3888.

The Journal of the United Nations is issued daily on working days in English and French. During the main part of the General Assembly session, it is published in the six official languages (Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish). The Journal, which is also available on the website of the United Nations and on the Official Document System (ODS), contains:

- (a) Programme of meetings and agenda;
- (b) Summary of meetings;
- (c) Signatures and ratifications for multilateral treaties deposited with the Secretary-General;
- (d) Announcements;
- (e) Daily list of and direct link to documents issued at Headquarters;
- (f) List of Chairmen of Regional Groups for each month;
- (g) List of websites.

Material for insertion in the Journal should be communicated by e-mail (journal@un.org), if possible with a confirmation by fax to (212) 963-4790 or on a diskette to room S-2370. The deadline for the inclusion of all material for the Journal issue of the next day is 7 p.m.

Information for delegations

Interpretation

- (a) Statements made in any of the six official languages of the United Nations are interpreted into the other official languages: for written statements it is essential that the delegations provide interpreters with copies of their texts in order to ensure the quality of the interpretation (see page 36). Speakers are requested to deliver the statement at a speed that is interpretable.
- (b) In cases where statements are made in a language other than the official languages, (rule 53 of the rules of procedure of the General Assembly): delegations must provide either an interpreter or a written text of the statement in one of the official languages. The interpretation into the other official languages by United Nations interpreters will be based on the interpretation or written text accepted by the Secretariat as representing the official text of the statement. A "pointer", a person who knows the language in which the statement is to be delivered and the official language into which it has been translated, should be made available by the delegation, to guide the interpreter throughout the translated text and to ensure synchronization between the speaker and the interpreter.

Written translations of statements delivered in official languages

"Read out verbatim" or "checked against delivery", should be specified on the first page of the text when delegations provide a written translation of their statement. For written texts provided in more than one official language, delegations should indicate clearly which of these is to be accepted as the official text.

Read out verbatim: interpreters will follow the translation. Therefore, any deviation from the text on the part of the speaker, including omissions and additions, are unlikely to be reflected in the interpretation (see page 34).

Check against delivery: interpreters will follow the speaker and not the translation. If the speaker deviates from the text, delegations should be aware that the interpretation heard by the audience will not necessarily correspond to the translation that they may have distributed to the audience and the press.

Microphones start to operate only when the representative taking the floor has been called upon to speak. To ensure the best possible recording and interpretation of the statement, representatives should speak directly and clearly into the microphone, particularly when giving figures, quotations or highly technical material, or when reading from a prepared text (see also page 36). Tapping on the microphone to test if it is working, turning pages or answering cellular phone calls should be avoided (see page 30).

Delivering the statement: while delegations are increasingly given a time frame in which to deliver their statements, they are kindly requested to do so at a normal speed if possible*, to enable the interpreters to give an accurate and complete rendition of their statements. When statements are delivered at a fast pace to comply with the time limit, the quality of the interpretation may suffer.

* For instance, the normal speed in English is 100 to 120 words per minute

Records of meetings

Meeting records are provided for the plenary meetings of principal organs, for meetings of the Main Committees of the General Assembly and, on a limited and selective basis, for meetings of certain other bodies. Meeting records are in two forms: verbatim records (from now on PVs) or summary records (from now on SRs). The records are prepared by the Secretariat and are subject to correction by delegations. However, corrections that add to, or alter the sense of, a statement as actually delivered cannot be accepted.

PVs cover the proceedings in extenso utilizing interpretations for languages other than the original.

Delegates are advised that if any portion of a written statement is not actually read out, it will not appear in the record of that meeting.

SRs cover the proceedings in a concise, abbreviated form. They are not intended to include each intervention, or to reproduce statements textually.

The provision of written records (verbatim or summary) for United Nations bodies is regulated by a number of decisions of the General Assembly and other principal organs.

In addition, sound recordings of meetings are made and may be consulted (see page 61).

Corrections to meeting records

Corrections to PVs: Chief, Verbatim Reporting Service, room C-154A.

Corrections to SRs: Chief, Official Records Editing Section, room DC2-0766, Two United Nations Plaza.

Corrections to both PVs and SRs should be indicated in a memorandum. If corrections are inserted in a copy of the record, the front page of the corrected record should bear the signature and title of an authorized official of the delegation concerned.

Delegations are requested to make sure that, when the corrections are made by hand, they are written clearly and that the place in which they are to be inserted is indicated precisely.

Corrections to PTs should be limited to errors and omissions in statements as actually delivered, that is, in the original language. When a request is submitted for a correction, a check is made against the sound recording of the relevant speech.

Corrections to SRs should not cover points of style, nor include lengthy additions that would upset the general balance of the summary record.

The text of a speech should not be submitted in lieu of corrections.

Issuance of corrections

Records of United Nations bodies are reissued as corrected only in certain cases. These include records of meetings of the Security Council and plenary meetings of the Economic and Social Council. For other bodies, including the General Assembly and its Main Committees, records are issued only once and approved corrections are reflected in a single corrigendum issued periodically. Only in cases of serious errors or omissions materially affecting the course of the proceedings may a correction be issued immediately. In the case of verbatim records, such exceptional corrections will be resorted to only to revise errors or omissions in the original language version of a statement. Other language versions would be brought in conformity, if necessary, with the corrected text in the original language.

Copies of prepared texts of statements in plenary meetings and in meetings of the Main Committees

In advance: 30 copies (minimum) should be given to the conference officer to help the Secretariat provide the best possible service or failing this.

Right before the speaker takes the floor: 6 copies should be provided urgently for interpreters and record-writers. Copies of the scripts should also be provided, if films or other visual materials are used.

Electronic versions of the statements for posting on the UN website: preferably as an MS WORD file attachment, should be sent by e-mail to DPI@un.int.

For distribution in the General Assembly Hall: 300 copies, if delegations wish to have the statement distributed to delegations, specialized agencies, observers, interpreters, record-writers and press officers. Statements should be delivered to the documents counter on the left side of the Hall or to the conference officer.

Documents facilities

Translation and reproduction of documents

Delegations wishing to submit documents for consideration by a United Nations body should present them to the Secretary-General or to the secretary of the body concerned. The staff of Documents Control is not authorized to accept documents for translation or reproduction directly from delegations.

The categories of documents are as follows:

- (a) The "General" series.
- (b) The "Limited" (L) series followed by the serial number: this series comprises documents of a temporary nature such as draft resolutions and amendments thereto. When such documents are submitted during a meeting and are required urgently, advance versions marked "Provisional" are translated and reproduced immediately by special arrangements and distributed to participants only. Edited texts and revised translations are issued later;

Conference services

- (c) The "Restricted" (R) series followed by the serial number; this series contains only those documents whose content requires at the time of issuance that they should not be made public;
- (d) Conference room papers (CRPs) or working papers (WPs): are informal papers, in one or more languages, used in the course of a meeting and distributed only to participants and other interested recipients attending the meetings.

Distribution of documents for delegations

Delegations' pick-up area located at the service entrance to the North Lawn complex from 7.30 a.m. to 9.30 a.m. on weekdays.

The daily list of documents distributed at Headquarters is issued in the Journal. Documentation distributed daily to delegations in accordance with stated requirements will be available for pick-up at the address above.

Concourse level of the Secretariat building (room S-B1-060, ext. 3.7373). This Delegation Station is open for secondary requests during working hours on weekdays.

A limited number of copies of documents containing draft proposals for action during the meetings in progress will be available at the documents counter in the conference rooms.

Special requests for distribution should be addressed to the Chief of the Publishing Section (room NL-314A, ext. 3.8044).

Information for delegations

Automatic distribution arrangements: should be made by calling ext. 3.7344; secondary requests should be made to S-B1-60 or by calling ext. 3.7373.

Distribution of documents during the meetings: only United Nations documents may be distributed during the meetings (see FAQ 4).

Electronic version of official documents: ODS (the United Nations official document system) can be accessed free of charge by all permanent missions to the United Nations and other government offices. Documents in all official languages stored in the official document system are indexed following the structure of the United Nations Bibliographic Information System (UNBIS) and can be retrieved for viewing, printing and/or downloaded (see pages 53-54).

Information on the official document system can be requested from ext. 3.6439.

Press releases, distribution of speeches

The Meetings Coverage Section prepares press release summaries in English and French of most open meetings held at United Nations Headquarters, which are usually available within hours of the end of the meetings. In addition, releases are issued on United Nations conferences and meetings held in other parts of the world. These releases, which are prepared for the use of information media and are not official records, also contain background information. English press releases are available electronically on the UN website at www.un.org/apps/pressreleases/; French press releases are at www.un.org/french/apps/pressreleases/.

Accredited correspondents may obtain press releases from the Media Documents Centre in the press

Media, public and library services

working area on the third floor of the Secretariat building (ext. 3.7165). Delegations wishing to provide texts of speeches or press releases for accredited correspondents should bring 100 copies to the Media Documents Centre (room 8-0304) where they will be made immediately available. These texts must be issued on the letterhead of the mission responsible and should be dated. Statements made during the general debate of the General Assembly, special sessions or other major events at Headquarters should be e-mailed as early as possible to media@un.org for posting on the UN website.

The latest information on UN-related developments can be found at the UN News Centre at www.un.org/news. The Centre also provides an e-mail news service. The "Issues on the UN Agenda" page also provides a one-stop shop for information on 50 major topics (www.un.org/issue). A list of street and e-mail addresses, telephone and fax numbers of UN Permanent Missions is also available at www.un.org/overview/missions.htm.

The audio-visual pages provide access to audio news files from UN radio, to video products and to photo. The documentation research guide, UN-I-QUE (Info Quest) database together with other databases featuring international treaties, statistical indicators, landmine information, information concerning refugees, document symbols and sales numbers can also be accessed from the website.

The UN website also offers access to research tools and links to the home pages of other parts of the UN system.

Additional information can be obtained from the Web Services Section (ext. 3.0780).

Auxiliary facility location: 173-53 Croydon Road, Jamaica Estates (Queens)

The United Nations International School (UNIS), under the auspices of the United Nations, was founded on the extension of the philosophy of the United Nations that people who work and play together will also negotiate together. It serves mainly the children of United Nations staff and Delegation personnel. It also welcomes for enrolment a limited number of children from abroad and from the United States to make for a balanced educational exposure for all.

Auxiliary facility: grades kindergarten through eighth.

English is the normal language of instruction, but all students learn French or Spanish as well, with the other official UN languages and German, Italian and Japanese within the curriculum. Mother tongue instruction is also offered when requested. The very multiplicity of languages spoken by the international faculty and students provides a rich cultural opportunity. Great emphasis is placed on the teaching of science in ways that are effective for students of high ability who have not yet achieved fluency in English. To that end, particular attention is paid to modern learning equipment, calculators, computers and the like.

The scholastic standards are high. The High School is one of the few institutions of learning in the New York area that offers the International Baccalaureate Degree, which qualifies the recipient to attend colleges
